JOHN J. WALLACE, CRE, FRICS

Consultant/Principal, WALLACE & STEICHEN, INC.

Real Estate Expert

CURRICULUM VITAE

John J. Wallace, Co-Founder and Principal of Wallace & Steichen, Inc., a real estate consulting, brokerage, appraisal and economics firm, has worked on hundreds of assignments and evaluated thousands of properties during his 30+ years in the real estate industry. A specialist in real estate, his extensive experience in planning, acquisition, management, brokerage, economics, appraisal and development has resulted in a thorough understanding of most facets of the real estate industry, including special expertise in retail economics. Mr. Wallace also provides real estate expert witness services.

Prior to co-founding Wallace & Steichen, Inc., Mr. Wallace's experience included a broad range of senior real estate positions. These included President and Manager of a multi-office commercial brokerage company; Administrative Manager of a commercial property management company; Associate in an international real estate consulting firm; and the position of Senior Real Estate Economist with SRI International (formerly Stanford Research Institute).
